

Dr. Dan Zuidema is a professor of chemistry at Covenant College in Lookout Mountain, GA, and serves as the chair of the chemistry department. He also teaches science part-time at Chattanooga Christian High School in Chattanooga, TN. Dan earned a BS in chemistry at Calvin College and a PhD in organic chemistry from Wake Forest University. His research interests include Raney nickel mediated catalytic transfer hydrogenolysis as well as chemistry education.